Employment Law Watch

The Good, The Bad and The Poor Performer

Our most recent breakfast seminar, entitled 'The Good, The Bad, and The Poor Performer' was performed to a packed audience earlier this month. As you might expect the seminar used a Wild West theme to focus on how to identify and manage poor performers, as well as how to set up systems to minimise the chance of poor performance occurring in the first place.

Feedback suggests that the seminar was very well received and we have already been approached by a number of contacts to run the seminar as an in-house training course.

In response therefore we are offering a two hour training course on managing the poor performer at your premises for £350 +VAT. The course will be closely modelled on our breakfast seminar with added case studies and advice. There is no limit on the number of people you can bring to the course, making it a very cost effective approach to training managers on this topical subject.

For further information or to make a course booking please contact John Palmer on 0116 257 4407 or email john.palmer@harveyingram.com.
