

Looking after your business

Intellectual Property

Intellectual Property rights are fundamental to the success of many businesses. We can add value by assisting in acquiring, exploiting and protecting your Intellectual Property rights.

Our team of specialist Intellectual Property lawyers has the experience to help you protect and exploit your trade marks, patents, copyright and designs, as well as the protection of reputation across all forms of media.

Our experience includes working with start-up businesses in guiding them through IP issues, through to multi-national companies which need advice on complex protection and licensing strategies.

We have extensive experience in all IP areas in the High Court and the Court of Appeal, as well as the Patents County Court, the Patent Office and the Trade Marks Registry.
